Thank you for your letter of February 6th offering your services to the Central Intelligence Agency.

My Personnel Director will arrange for a personnel procurement officer on the West Coast to confer with you in the near future to discuss this matter further. The number of military personnel in this Agency is limited and such assignments are usually filled by nomination of individuals by the service concerned. We are permitted, however, to employ in a civilian status regular officers who have been retired for physical disability.

Sincerely,

[Signature]

Director
